COLUMBIA PACT IS RATIFIED

Senate Gives Treaty Ten More Than Required Two-Thirds

HARDING IS VICTOR

Washington, April 21.—The Colombian treaty growing out of the partitioning of Panama was ratified today by the Senate. It provides for the payment by the United States of $25,000,000 to the South American republic, but has yet to be approved by the Colombian Assembly.

The vote on ratification was 69 to 19, or 10 more than the necessary two thirds majority.

Forty Republicans were joined by 29 Democrats in voting for ratification. One Republican, Page, of Vermont, and three Democrats, Shields, of Tennessee, Owens, Oklahoma, and Walsh, Montana, were paired in its favor. Two Republicans, Senators Elkins, of West Virginia, and Newberry, Michigan, were absent and not voting.

The Harding Administration through ratification of the treaty won its first fight in the Senate. The President in a message to the special session of the Senate March 9, five days after his inauguration, recommended ratification as "very helpful at the present time in promoting our friendly relationship." This recommendation was supplemented today by Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, who in reply to attacks of Republican Senators of the progressive group, declared ratification of the pact was "part of a great national foreign policy" contemplated by President Harding "toward our neighbors in the Southern and Eastern hemispheres."

On Senator Borah's amendment to exculpate this nation and its agents from any wrongdoing in acquiring the canal, three Democrats voted with 36 Republicans on the first roll call and with 27 Republicans on a second call. These Democrats were Kendrick Wyoming; Reed, Missouri, and Watson, Georgia. Nine Republicans who first voted for the Borah amendment later voted in opposition. These were Dillingham, Vermont; Fernald, Maine; Keyes, New Hampshire; Ladd, North Dakota; Lodge, Massachusetts; McKinley, Illinois; Spencer, Missouri; Sterling, South Dakota, and Sutherland, West Virginia.

A murmur swept the chamber when Senator Lodge changed front on the amendment. A milder demonstration had occurred when he supported it on the first call. Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, who supported most of the other amendments proposed, voted loudly in the negative on the Borah amendment.

The Poindexter amendment to cut the indemnity to colombia from $25,000,000 to $15,000,000 was supported by 16 Republicans and six Democrats.

Twenty-two Republicans and 17 Democrats supported Senator Wadsworth's amendment to prohibit Columbian troops and warships from using the canal in a war against a nation with which the United States was at peace.

The final vote ended eight days of debate, the treaty by agreement having been taken up by the Senate immediately after the convening of the Sixty-seevnth Congress in extraordinary session. Opponents of ratification composed largely of what is known in the Senate as the progressive Republican group, were vigorous in their denunciation of the pact throughout the discussion. They declared that its acceptance would place a stain on the name of Theodore Roosevelt, would be a useless squandering of public money, and would amount to compliance with "a blackmail demand on the part of Colombia."

Senator Lodge, who with Senators McCumber, North Dakota; Borah Idaho; Brandegee, Connecticut, and Reports upon different branches of the work indicated increased interest as well as contributions.

At the evening session, a most instructive address upon Korea was delivered by Dr. Eugene Bell, a missionary in that country. After this address, the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered.

The Presbyterial is holding an all day session today in the church, which will be open to to the public.

Urge Appointment

Friends of Judge Waddill Call on President Harding

Washington, April 21.—A delegation of Virginians composed of Colonel H. W. Anderson and Joseph P. Brady of Richmond, and Joseph L. Crupper, of Alexandria, called on President Harding today and urged the appointment of Judge Edmund Waddill for the vacancy on the United States Circuit Counrt of Appeals, made vacant by the death of Judge Jeter C. Pritchard.

President Harding told the Virginians he had an open mind and that the claim of Judge Waddill would receive careful consideration. However, the President suggested that the delegation call on the Attorney-General regarding the matter.

Colonel Anderson, Mr. Brady and Mr. Crupper called at the Department of Justice later in the afternoon, but were unable to see the Attorney-General, owing to an accumulation of business while absent from Washington. The Virginians had a conference with Col. Goff, assistant to the Attorney-General, where the promotion of Judge Waddill was discussed.

URGED AS MEDIATOR ON REPARATIONS

League of Nations Backers Dismayed by Attitude of France

RUHR OCCUPATION

Britain Will Stand by Ally if Further Sanctions Are Demanded—Germany May Appeal to U. S.

London, April 21.—According to some of the most influential supporters of the League of Nations in this country there are only two ways out of the present critical reparations situation. The first is tantamount to asking the United States Government to be the mediator between Germany and the Allied powers in an effort to ascertain just what Germany can pay and how she can pay it; the second scheme is to leave the matter to a commission of economic experts appointed by the League itself.

The present attitude of France is creating a feeling of dismay among the League adherents, for only by a miracle, they believe, can the French either singly or with the tacit or active support of Great Britain, be prevented from going into the Ruhr district after May 1, the date by which, under the treaty, Germany must have paid to the Allies $5,000,000,000. As pointed out today, Great Britain, under the leadership of Premier Lloyd George, seems powerless to resist the French demand to push forward the Allied occupation of Germany in the vain hope of collecting an indemnity which Germany is physically incapable of paying.

The net result of the recently applied Allied sanctions, has been up to the present time, it is asserted to place the Allied powers in one of the most serious predicaments they have found themselves in since the war, a position which can only be made worse if France's policy of accentuating the difficulty by further invasion of Germany is continued. The British Premier has given no direct intimation as yet that at the Hythe conference with M. Briand on Sunday he will commit his country to a deeper invasion of Germany, but in official quarters it is stated that in the last analysis Great Britain will permit no wedge to be driven between her and France.

So far as can be ascertained the Germans will not be able to bring forward any plans which will succeed in satisfying the French. There is not enough hard cash in sight in the German proposition to take over any large part of the Allied debt to America, and there is serious opposition in France to the use of German labor and materials in the restoration of Northern France on the scale which the Germans now seem disposed to offer.

Berlin, April 21.—Persons close to the Foreign Office declared that Germany has received offers from neutral sources to transmit a reasonable proposal to the United States which would be transmitted to the Allies if it met encouragement in America. It could not be ascertained, however, whether American opinion was first sought regarding the possible contents of such a proposition.

The Vossische Zeitung reports that a proposal was dispatched to Washington April 15 containing three basic proposals: The payment of definite sums to the Allies, assumption of the Allies' debts by America and Germany and the appointment of an international court to determine the extent of payments already made by Germany on the 20,000,000,000 gold marks due on May 12.

Embezzlement Charge

Richmond, Va., April 21.—Federal authorities have sworn out a warrant charging Harold Gordon Blundon, former president of the Commonwealth National Bank, of Reedville, Northumberland county, with embezzlement. The action was of particular interest here, where he has a number of friends. Blundon is a member of Governor Davis' staff, with the title of colonel, and is a member of an old and prominent family of Northumberland county. His arrest was the result of an investigation which has been under way since the burning of the bank, January 30 last.

At first the authorities worked on the theory that yeggmen blew the safe robbing it of $120,000 in cash and securities, and then burning the building in an effort to cover up their tracks.

Suspicion that this theory was not the correct one was aroused when it developed that the door to the safe was open and that there was no evidence of an explosion. It was said that further inquiry disclosed that the time lock had been set for 2 a. m., which was about the time the fire broke out. A few weeks later Liberty bonds and securities of the value of $23,000 were found hidden under the steps of a nearby church by children playing in the neighborhood. It was said here yesterday that other bonds were located in Baltimore, having been placed there as collateral for loans.

Detectives of the State Insurance Bureau have been investigating the alleged incendiary end of the case for some time, co-operating with J. W. Bales, special agent of the Treasury Department, and Thomas H. Davis, national bank examiner, who has been especially in charge of the bank's affairs.

Blundon was taken to Baltimore today, and from there started to Norfolk for a hearing.

The alleged offence occurred near the government experimental afrm in April 15. Maass lives at Relee, Arlington county.

CLAIM ROAD IS OPERATING AT LOSS

Brief Filed Today With the Interstate Commerce Commission

WANT $185,000 MORE

Claim Road Failed to Obtain Revenue Expected During Inauguration Period and Net Revenues in March Sh

(Special to The Gazette)

With the war traffic over, the Washington-Virginia Railway Company is operating at an actual operating loss, according to attorneys Frederick L. Ballard and John S. Barbour for the company, who filed a brief with the Interstate Commerce Commission today as the final point in the company's appeal for a raise in rates and abolition of the 25 trip family ticket.

The road asks a rate increase that will yield additional gross revenue of $185,000 the brief says, adding that during the first two months of the present year the company suffered a net loss of more than $2,600 with deductions for payment of taxes.

"Judged by the history of the road, by comparison with other rates for similar service; considered in the light of the vast increases in operating costs and the narrowing margin between revenues and expenses," the brief says, "the rates in the suspended tariffi asked by the road are clearly reasonable and just." Evidence presented at the hearing furnishes proof of their reasonableness." The suspended rates, the brief says are generally lower than the existing and approved rates of steam roads and of other electric railways for similar services.

The brief goes into detail quoting similar cases to that of the Washington-Virginia. It says the road gives regular and rapid communication service between Washington and some of the principal suburbs of the city, with a headway of 10 minutes in rush periods and that it carries passengers into the heart of Washington. It asserts that a one-way rate of three cents a mile and sale of monthly commutation tickets at less than half that rate are just and reasonable.

The management of the road, the brief said, expected that inauguration would mount the total of revenues considerably, but that on the face of figures showing net revenues, the results for March showed an actual decrease.

REP. R. W. MOORE TALKS ON SWEET BILL

EXPECT EARLY ACTION

In an address delivered before a mass meeting last night in the chamber of commerce under the auspices of the American Legion Representative R. Walton Moore expressed himself in favor of the main provisions of the Sweet bill for the disabled soldiers now pending before a committee in the House of Representatives. The speaker recited some of the provisions of the bill. It is he declared a centralization measure in all respects and all of its requirements are in favor of the ex-service man. The theory of the bill he said is for liberalization. Mr. Moore said there are more than 100,000 cases pending before the War Risk Insurance Bureau for payment that have not been paid. These men he said should be taken care of in a definite way in fulfillment of the promise made to the men when they went to war.

Mr. Moore in his opening statement declared that one of the astonishing things is that the men handling the question of helping the disabled soldiers was the fact that the members of the investigating committee were perfectly oblivious to existing conditions. Comparisons of the large number of men in private hospitals and the small number in government hospitals receiving attention were given by Mr. Moore. In Virginia at the present time he said there are 226 disabled men of which number 134 are in private hospitals and only 92 in government hospitals.

Concluding his address Representative Moore said he was at the service of the men who are entitled to it and will do anything in his power to facilities individual cases. He predicted speedy action on the bill.

Maj. Robert Barton, Winchester, Va., state commander of the American Legion told of the remarkable growth of the Legion since its organization a little more than two years ago. The speaker reviewed its material accomplishments. He predicted a rosy future for the organization basing his statement on its ac-

Abandoning the Front Porch.

President Harding's trip to New York and his speech there on our relations with South America, followed by the announcement from the White House that the President has two more speaking engagements away from Washington and several more under consideration, indicate that the front porch method of campaigning for public support has been abandoned. The old front porch which stood up so well under the strains of fierce political combat last October and November is no longer big enough for Mr. Harding's audience of one hundred and ten million people. So he goes forth on the road. He will see the people and talk to them, explain his policies and ask popular support for them.

From whatever motives and for whatever purposes, the Administration has done well to drop porch tactics and adopt more personal and popular ones. It is not without significance that the day following the President's visit to New York and his plea there for good feelings between the United States and the countries of South America, the United States Senate by a vote of 69 to 19 ratified the treaty with Columbia, clarifying a situation which has disturbed relations between this country and South America ever since the Panama Revolution.

President Harding will find, as Roosevelt and Wilson found, that it is neither wise nor safe to ignore the people in formulating great governmental policies. Mr Roosevelt's "swings around the circle" are still fresh in the minds of many people and Mr. Wilson repeatedly took matters up directly with the people in speeches all over the country, particularly when he was trying to use popular opinion as a club over Congress. His preparedness tour in 1916, extending into many sections of the country, may be considered in the light of after events as one of his best pieces of strategy.

Mr. Harding is not a well known President. Up to the time he was nominated by his party he was almost altogether a local figure in American politics. Despite the fact that he was elected by an overwhelming majority, there is a distinct feeling in many quarters and among many people that he is a sort of syndicate of "best minds" instead of a single directing head of the Government. He has a chance, by resorting often and forcibly to public speech making in various sections of the country, to dispel that notion and to set himself up in the minds of the people as a personality and a leader of political thought.

A bill has been introduced in Congress to make the Star Spangled Banner the official national anthem. The bill should be amended to provide either that the second verse should be abolished or that it may be hummed instead of sung on state occasions.

Daylight saving for Virginia is contemplated in a bill introduced in the House by Congressman Dallinger of Massachusetts who seeks to have all of the States in the first time zone follow the lead of the Bay State in granting to its people greater recreational opportunities.

METEORS ALARM GEORGIANS

Macon, Ga., April 21.—A meteor or a series of meteors observed in middle and southern Georgia yesterday morning, exploded and showered hot metal, frightening, people in the sections where the phenomena occurred.

The meteor exploded over Cordele and at Pitts, some distance east of Cordele, and also at Albany, southwest of here.

More than a dozen heavy explosions were heard at Pitts, then there was a sharp crackling in the air for several minutes and red hot metal, some pieces weighing 6 pounds each, began to fall. In the wake of the falling fragments was a trail of black smoke.

So far as known last night no one was injured.

MOTHER EULOGIZES MRS. "FIFI" STOKES

New York, April 21.—Intimate affairs in the life of Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes were related by her mother, Mrs. Emma Miller, on the witness stand today in the trial of the divorce suit of W. E. D. Stokes.

The incidents were introduced to show that Mrs. Stokes was an ideal mother to her children and to refute charges that she could by any chance have had any relation with one of the correspondents.

Mrs. Miller said that when she heard of the marriage of her daughter to the millionaire she said, "she has thrown herself away."

"Hal Bi'lg was never more attentive to Helen than to Beatrice and Marcella, my other daughters. His attitude toward her was that of brother to sister," said Mrs. Miller.

This was her reply when she was asked by Mrs. Stokes' attorneys to describe the deportment of Billig, one of the correspondents.

92 EXTRA BOTTLES GETS MOROSCO IN TROUBLE

New York, April 21.—Charged with having 92 bottles of liquor in his possession, in violation of the Volstead Act, Oliver Morosco, theatrical producer yesterday was held in $1,000 bail for trial in Federal Court in Brooklyn.

Mr. Morosco recently applied to Charles R. O'Connor, Federal Prohibition Director in New York, for a permit to transfer a quantity of liquor from his home at Great Neck to Los Angeles. The beverages were put in forty barrels for transportation, but an examination by an inspector disclosed, it was alleged, that he had 92 bottles more than covered in the permit. These bottles, it was alleged, had been purchased after the Volstead Act became effective.

FAMILY WIPED OUT AS TRAIN HITS AUTO NEAR BORDENTOWN

Burlington, N. J., April 21.—An entire family was wiped out yesterday afternoon when a father, mother, son and daughter were killed by a train which struck their automobile at Dey's Crossing, between Bordentown and this place. The dead:

Frank Kennedy and his wife, of Hillside, a suburb of Elizabeth; Anita, a daughter, 8 years old; Edward, a son, aged 4.

Arnold and Charles Kennedy are in a critical condition in a hospital, suffering from injuries sustained in the accident. Mrs. Kennedy died in a nearby farmhouse shortly after the accident.

Kennedy and his family were visiting his brother, Frank, who lives on the Bordentown and Burlington road, and were returning to Elizabeth in their automobile, when they approached the unprotected grade crossing. There is a farmhouse on one side and a heavy growth of trees on the other, making it difficult to discern the track until the rails are reached.

As the car crossed the railroad it was struck by an oncoming train from Camp Dix, its occupants being strewn over the roadbed. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy and son were killed outright. The motor car was demolished.

The grade crossing is described as one of the most dangerous in this locality, several bad accidents having occurred there within recent years. Three years ago Frank Wiley, of Bordentown, and three members of his family were killed in the same manner as was the Kennedy family yesterday.

Kennedy was 50 years old and his wife was 37. Besides the children in the accident, they leave five others ranging from 5 to 16 years old. Lillian, a five year old child, was left on the Kennedy farm and so escaped the fate of the others. Anita was three years old, Arnold seven, Edward four, and Charles, the nephew, 23.

Col. Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian, was the next speaker. Among other things he said the country is as ill prepared for the problems of peace as it was for the problems of war four years ago. Republics are forgetful and it is necessary for the veterans to crystalize. He said there were 350,000 Americans killed and wounded and Congress he added has moved at a snail's pace. Other nations of the Allies were better prepared for peace than America and have gone steadily ahead with rehabilitation, he declared. The speaker referred to a local case where the government was derelict in its duty. The peak of the load's troubles said Col. Miller, including mental and tuberculor cases, will not be reached for at least five years.

If Congress heeds the wishes of the people he predicted the passage of the Sweet bill. He urged all to get behind the measure.

Mrs. Mary T. Wisman, field director of the Salvation Army, who is here in the interest of the appeal to be made by the newly formed Advisory Board of that organization, made a short address in which she urged the members of the Legion to lend their support to the appeal for funds for that organization to be launched in Alexandria beginning May 9. The speaker said the organization was 100 per cent American and told of its great work for humanity during the war and of its peace time program. The speaker also praised the Elks for the hearty co-operation with the Salvation Army during the world war.

The meeting was presided over by John T. Worthington, commander of the local post, who introduced the speakers.

The assembly call was given by Linwood Simpson. A number of officials from Washington attended the meeting among whom were H. H. Baerge, secretary of the national legislative committee and Leon Fraser, assistant director of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance and others.

JACK CUDAHY ENDS LIFE

Los Angeles, April 21.—Driven to desperation, it is believed, because of the failure to negotiate a loan of $10,000 and despondency from financial worry caused John P. (Handsome Jack) Cudahy, son of the famous meat packer of that name, to commit suicide yesterday morning by blowing the top of his head off with a shotgun in his bedroom at his home here.

His wife, Edna C. Cudahy, was in her own dressing room nearby at the time. Downstairs in the palatial home were his 17 year old daughter, Anne, and his 14 year old son Michael.

According to Mrs. Cudahy, ill health, coupled with financial worry, was the cause of his act. She denied the report that there had been an altercation between her and her husband shortly before Mr. Cudahy took his life.

Investigation by detectives disclosed that early yesterday morning, Mr. Cudahy received a letter from the Northern Trust Company, of Chicago, stating "we do not want to carry a permanent loan and that, unless your sister can vouch the loan of $10,000 you ask for, we find it impossible to grant your request."

The evening previous the officers learned that Mr. Cudahy had received a telegram from his sister, Clara, in Santa Barbara, containing the following brief statement.

"Sorry, but find it impossible to do what you ask."

It is believed by the police that the failure to negotiate this loan was the culminating disappointment which drove the son of the famous packer to end his life.

For more than a score of years "Handsome Jack" Cudahy and his doing furnished "copy" for the public press. He had a dominant personality, which many times broke from control and which brought him many enemies. To his friends he was a combinaiton of egoism and sentimentalism; his acts caused him finally to be ousted from the Kansas City branch of the Cudahy Packing Company and sent him to California.

In 1899 Jack Cudahy fell in love with and married Edna Cowin, of Omaha. Mrs. Cudahy, noted for her beauty, went to Kansas City with her husband.

Shortly after his marriage Cudahy resumed the spotlight in the club and society life of Kansas City. He purchased a 2,000-here stock farm in Kansas, and between the packing company and the farm and his social pursuits his family was more or less neglected.

The strained relations between the couple were not made public until 1910, when came the attack of Cudahy on Jere Lillis, Kansas City banker.

Police summoned to the Cudahy home at an early hour by Mrs. Cudahy found the banker lying on the floor bound with ropes and severely slashed. Cudahy and his chauffeur were in the room. In a statement to the police Cudahy said Lillis "had wrecked his home." Lillis recovered and Cudahy was not prosecuted.

Within a few months the Cudahys were divorced. The decree placed their children in care of Michal Cudahy, th paternal grandfather. But within a year both were frankly regretting the divorce, and so in June, 1912, they were reunited.

Uncle Sam's Navy Likely to Be Large

WASHINGTON.—Apparently Uncle Sam is to have quite a substantial navy. At a recent Navy league dinner Secretary of the Navy Denby pronounced himself in favor of a navy the equal of any. Secretary of War Weeks thought the United States should have a navy adequate for defense against any nation which conceivably might go to war with it.

Incidentally, it transpires that the first official act of Secretary Denby was to lift the ban placed on the Navy league by former Secretary Daniels when he fell out with it.

"I would belie every instinct of my being," said Secretary Denby, "if I did not believe in making a fighting navy. I am for a big navy, and I hope the present building program of the navy will be completed. I hope before we are through to see an American navy as big as any other. I know and you know that this means building a navy the equal of Great Britain's. If you ask me why we should do that, I reply by asking you why not? Haven't we a coastline and far-flung insular possessions that absolutely requulre a great navy to protect them. Some foolish persons seem to imagine that building a navy the equal of Great Britain's means we will go to war with Great Britain eventually. Such a war would be unthinkably horrible and for that reason, if for no other, it will never happen."

Secretary of War Weeks, speaking as a director of the Navy league, said:

"I want a navy large enough for any purposes for which it conceivably is to be used. I want it big enough to cope with any nation with which we are likely to be at war."

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, warned against the unpreparedness propaganda being spread by the pacifists, who he said are still formidable.

The Female of the Species in Denver

DENVER.—A plucky woman, a pair of stout suspenders and a desire for jewelry proved the undoing of George Morales, a Mexican. Here's the story, as Mrs. Pear Harmon told it to the police judge:

"When I got home from work in the afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, I opened the door of my room to see a husky Mexican just starting to come out. I barred the door with my body. I noticed that a small jewel box which I had left on my dresser was missing. I demanded he turn over my jewels. I shoved him up against the wall. I reached into his pocket and found my jewel box, which fell to the floor and flew open.

"A diamond lavalliere, highly valued because it belongs to my little daughter, was missing, so I told him to come through with that. He said he didn't have it, jerked out of my reach and made a dive for the door. As he made for the door I threw myself toward him and knocked him off of his feet. All that I could catch hold of were his suspenders, so I held tight shouting at the top of my lungs all of the time. My room is right at the head of the stairs, so he started down, dragging me after him.

"I didn't have the slightest idea of letting go and just made myself a dead weight which he had to drag. I'm not sure whether either one of us were on our feet going down the stairs, but we landed on the front porch in a heap and he got up again and tried to get away.

"By this time a number of the neighbors were aroused and a call for the police was turned in, I guess, for soon an officer came and took the fellow."

SAYS CHASCO-VIN IS THE BEST TONIC SHE EVER TOOK

"Chasco-Vin is positively the best tonic I ever took and I will always recommend it. I was troubled with pains in my back and a very much run-down system for a long time. I doctored for it but found no benefit whatever. I had been told about Chasco-Vin again and again and at last gave it a trial. The first bottle helped me wonderfully and the second bottle that I am now taking I am sure is all that I will need. It certainly builds up the system and does it quickly" Mrs. Teeteman, 620 Chestnut St Camden, N. J.

384,000 Cocktails Take Leave of Newport News

Newport News, Va., April 21.—Three hundred and eighty-four thousand vermouth cocktails and more than fifty cases of rare wines and whiskies disappeared from Newport News this morning.

The liquor was the best obtainable according to customs officials. No attempt will be made to run down those who took it away.

There were 1,000 cases of Vermouth aboard the Italian steamer Ansaldo Seventh This is 12,000 quarts And there is Vermouth enough in every quart to supply thirty-two cocktails. Had the Vermouth been converted into cocktails and served equally to every man, woman and child in the city, there would have been eleven for each person, figuring the population at a little more than 35,000.

CHICAGO GIRL, 17, DENIES SHE IS "FLAPPER BANDIT"

Chicago, April 21.—Mae McDonald, 17, was locked up by police yesterday as the "flapper bandit" who has been busy at highway robbery for several days. The girl stubbornly denies the charges against her, but William Meckless positively identified her as the girl who shoved a pistol under his nose last night and forced him to give up $35.

"What!" She demanded. "Me stick up a guy." Gee, I never have had a gun in my hand. I wouldn't know which end to use."

Other victims of the girl bandit will be given an opportunity to identify the prisoner. Earler last night, a girl bandit, accompanied by two men, took a taxicab and money from a taxi driver.

INGOMAR THEATRE

Tomorrow at the Ingomar Theatre Frank Mayo, the well known star, will be seen in a big virile feature, "The Magnificent Brute," which is like a trip through the Canadian woods with Frank Mayo as a guide. The star has a fighting role in the Universal action drama which makes the love theme even more romantic. Pretty Dorothy Devore plays opposite the star in the leading feminine role.

RICHMOND THEATRE

"Billions," Nazimova's latest contribution to the screen, tomorrow at the Richmond Theatre, makes use of numerous unusual and fanciful sets all of which have been designed under the personal supervision of Nazimova. Simplicity, however, has been the keynote, even where the bizarr was sought.

Incidentally, it is a tale that will baffle the fan who likes to anticipate the unfolding of the plot by predicting developments in advance of their appearance. For "Billions" is a picture of surprises.

IDLE HOUR THEATRE

"The Witch's Lure," a romance of the Texas oil fields, is the feature at the Idle Hour Theatre tomorrow. Starring Davide and an all star cast, this is a picture that grips the interest at the start and holds it through out, a production with thrills and heart interest. Nearly everyone has read of the exciting events going on in the Texas oil fields. This picture portrays all of them built around a beautiful romance. "Thunderbolt Jack" No. 8, completes an attractive bill.

Fall, then a Senator from New Mexico, joined in an adverse report against the treaty as negotiated in the Foreign Relations Committee in 1917, led the fight for ratification. His change along with that of other Republican Senators from opposition to the original treaty to advocacy of the amended pact was one of the points of attack by thte progressive Republican group.

Supporters of ratification declared that the treaty would improve the relations of the United States with Latin-American republics, would satisfy demands equitably made by Colombia, and would aid the United States in the world quest for oil.

TURKISH GIRLS DIE IN BATTLE

Constantinople, April 21.—The Greeks are delivering a heavy counter offensive against the Turks near Usbak to prevent the Turks from capturing the town.

The Greeks continue their preparations for a formidable offensive which is expected to commence in a few days, probably in an effort to reach Kutayah. The Turks are bringing up the last of the conscripts from the interior tribes, which, together with the army of Kiazin Kara Bekir, form an army of about 100,000.

The Turkish communication issued yesterday says that five members of the woman's battalion have been killed before Usbak, where the Greeks are being pressed.

FARM HELP CHEAPER

Delaware Planters Report Labor Situation Greatly Improved

Blackbird, Del., April 21.—Farmers of the lower part of New Castle county and the upper part of Kent county report that they are now able to secure plenty of good help at reasonable wages, which have been nearly cut in half of what they were two years ago. Instead of the farmers now hunting for help, the men are now seeking places to work.

One feature noticeable is that many people who were attracted to the cities during the war boom period are now returning to the farms. This exodus from the farms during the period of the war caused much alarm, as there were many farms which could not be operated owing to the scarcity of farm help and the extremely high wages which had to be paid to such help as was available.

Fruit and Vegetable Price Trend is Down

Price trends r fruit and vegetables were slightly downward the past week according to a weekly market review from the Department of Agriculture. Only celery attracted higher prices. Lettuce new onions, potatoes and strawberries declined.

An abundance of cabbage this season was indicated in the statement that 1,022 cars of new cabbage were shipped, compared with 853 cars in the previous week and 516 in the corresponding week a year ago.

Freezing has injured the fruit crop in several sections.

Stole $90,000, Charge; Assets $1.25 in Coin

Chicago, April 21.—W. F. Sneed formerly a clerk in the county tax office at Charleston, W. Va., who has been sought in connection with the disappearance of $90,000 in tax money from his office April 1, was taken into custody at the Grant Hotel early yesterday.

He had only $1.25 in his possession. a pawnticket showed that he had pawned his watch recently. To the detectives who arrested him he denied the embezzlement charge.

"I ran away because I knew they would blame me," he said.

According to the local police the authorities have no certain information on the taking of the tax money, but asked that Sneed be detained for questioning.

TRAIL OF WALL STREET BOMBERS BELIEVED FOUND IN SCRANTON

Scranton, Pa., April 21.—Members of the New York bomb squad are expected here hourly to begin questioning Tito Ligi, arrested here Tuesday night on suspicion that he was implicated in the Wall street bomb explosion, which killed thirty nine persons and maimed scores of others last September.

Ligi, an Italian, 27 years old, has been kept under constant surveillance by Secret Service operatives for months, it was learned today. He was arrested in a house in the southern part of the city which has a secret underground entrance into an abandoned mine working, where government agents believed bombs were manufactured extensively.

P. J. Ahearn, a New York Secret Service man who has taken charge of the prisoner, said last night nothing concerning Ligi would be given for publication until after he has been grilled by the New York bomb squad men. It is known, however, that Ligi made a statement today that is causing the authorities intense concern. He is being questioned constantly, Ahearn said last night

Two months ago government agents following a clue to the perpetrators of the Wall street outrage went with the local police to the house near which Ligi was arrested They found the opening leading to the old mine and discovered that the abandoned working had been walled off into four sections, or compartments. Nothing incriminating was found in the premises at the time, but the police has since been under constant watch. The sudden arrest yesterday leads to the belief that concrete evidence has recently come to light.

Ligi, according to what information is available here, is thought to have been associated with other foreigners in the manufacture of bombs in the hidden compartments.

Other arrests, it is expected, will be made shortly.

Chief William J. Flynn, of the United States Secret Service, recently announced positively that the group responsible for the Wall street horror was known to him, and that they were Anarchists responsible for other depredations of recent years. He said at the time that secret service operatives were closing a net around the men still in this country.

Ligi says he has traveled extensively through the United States during the past two years, and that he came here about five months ago.

Kansas Mayoress Starts 'Clean-up'

Thayer, Kans., April 21.—Being women, Mayoress Abby H. Forest and her feminine city council have chosen as their first official act to give this town a jolly good tubbing.

"The first thing we are going to do is to use soap and water on our town," she says. "The park is a sight, there is dust all over the city council rooms, and the city hall hasn't had a real bath since goodness knows when."

Mayoress Forest does not know yet whether she will appoint a woman town marshal or not. Right now she knows no woman in Thayer who is husky enough for the job.

"The men are being extra nice to us right now," she said. "We have the city clerk, city attorney, city marshal and assistant marshal jobs to hand out and there are more applicants than jobs."

Finds $14,903 Beneath Plow

Salem, Va., April 21.—Henry Dameron, 25, descendant of pioneer Virginia settlers, who works on his uncle's mountainside farm near here from sunup to sundown at $10 a month, often dreamed, he said, of finding a treasure and buying a farm of his own.

On the afternoon of April 9 while plowing near the foot of Brush's mountain his plow unearthed a peculiar looking object which attracted his attention. Investigation revealed that he had found a small metal pot wrapped in buckskin containing gold and silver coins valued at $14,903. About $13,000 was in gold, $600 in silver and the balance in paper money so badly disintegrated that the denominations could not be distinguished. The latest date on any of the coins was 1823.

Young Dameron, first bewildered, was fearful that his fortune might be taken from him and kept his discovery a secret until today when he told his mother.

"Henry dreamed for a week that he was going to find a treasure," declared Mrs. Dameron, a hardy mountain woman, "and now he's gone and done it."

Last night the fortune was still in Dameron's keeping, with no intention on his part, he said, of depositing it in a bank.

Blazing Meteor Bombards Georgia With Showers of Molten Metal

Macon, Ga., April 21.—A meteor passed over Middle and Southern Georgia about 9 o'clock this morning, exploding and showering hot metal as heavy as iron.

The meteor was seen in Macon. It exploded over Cordele and also at Pitts, some distance east of Cordele, and also at Albany, southwest of here.

At Pitts, in Wilcox county, more than a dozen heavy explosions were heard; then, as if a machine gun had been pressed into action, there was a sharp crackling in the air for several minutes and red-hot metal, some pieces weighing six pounds each, began to fall. In the wake of the falling fragment was a trail of black smoke. The sky was cloudless. The majority of the pieces fell in open fields and so far as known last night no one was injured.

Potsdam Mob Assails Chicagoan And Wife

Berlin, April 21.—James E. Tobinson and his wife, residents of Chicago were attacked by a crowd of German men, women and children Tuesday as they sat on the terrace of Sans Souci Park following the funeral of former Empress Augusta Victoria.

The Americans were rescued by a security policeman and two German civilians, who locked arms and surrounded them, accepting a pelting of sticks, stones and umbrellas in defense of the couple, until they were able to escort them to the police station in Potsdam. Here a patrol of extra policemen was summoned and dispersed the crowd.

During the attack the policemen and the two German civilians were unable to quiet the crowd, members of which were shouting "Foreigners!" "French people!" Nor could they entirely shield the Americans. Mr. Tobinson was beaten about the head and shoulders and his wife received a bruised nose. Also her hat was torn from her head, her hair was pulled and she was struck on her arms and body by umbrellas.

SAYS HIS PRESCRIPTION HAS POWERFUL INFLUENCE OVER RHEUMATISM

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspopers.—A—has been appointed agent for Allenrhu in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles they who state they received no benefits. Sold by all druggist.

POLICEMAN KILLS MAN ATTEMPTING TO ESCAPE

Beaver Falls, Pa., April 21.—Attempting to escape while being taken to the police station with another man following their arrest, L. K Knight, aged 31, believed to be of Youngstown, Ohio, was shot to death here yesterday.

The other man, unidentified, and believed wounded, escaped.

According to Patrolman Adam Smakosz, who fired the shot, he noticed the two men on a motorcycle. They told him they were Philadelphians enroute to Youngstown. He found that neither had an owner's or driver's license and arrested them. The trio started for the station, Knight and the policeman pushing the machine.

While enroute, Knight turned to the man in the rear, asking "how are you getting along?" When the officer turned, Knight pushed the motorcycle over, knocked him down and pinned him beneath the machine.

Knight and his companion started to run, Knight heading for a neaby alley. Smakosz extricated himself, drew his revolver and fired one shot, which struck Knight in the back penetrating one lung and passing through the chest. He died within five minutes.

JUDGE WOULD DEPORT ALIEN FOR IMMORALITY

New York, April 21.—Supreme Court Justice Tierney forwarded yesterday to Immigration Commissioner Wallis copies of testimony at a divorce trial before him so that the Commissioner might determine whether this confessed offender four years with Mrs. Horowitz, though he left a wife behind him in Europe. Mrs. Horowitz is now in California.

"This man has got to be deported," Justice Tierney concluded. "We have thousands like him who come to this country and do not belong here and I am ferreting them out and sending them back. We could load the Levithian a dozen times with people who do not belong here."

SPORTS

Saturday on Baggett's field at 3:30 p. m., the Dreadnaughts meet a fast nine, Camp Humphreys, Co. B. This is the best team in the camp and will undoubtedly be the best Saturday game played here this season.

On Sunday, the Linworths come over for a try at us and the "D's" have a job if they expect to send them back with the short end of the score. In Southwest Washington Linworth mean something and if the "D's" trim this aggregation they will have accomplished a victory creditable to their team. The home team is practicing hard, as the visitors will by no means be easy, and if you want to witness this game, come early and get a seat.

The game starts promptly at 3 o'clock.

Jury of Own Sex May Try Woman For Slaying Man

Chicago, April 21.—Mrs. Cora Isabel Orthwein may face a jury composed of members of her own sex, when she is tried May 16 for the murder of Herbert P. Zeigler, who was shot March 1 in Mrs. Orthwein's apartment.

The startling departure practically was assured today when attorneys for Mrs. Orthwein and Assistant State attorneys agreed in open court to a jury of women. Judge Francis S. Thompson said he could see no legal objection to the plan.

Assistant State's Attorney Heath in making the suggestion, explained that his purpose was to break the long series of acquittals which have been vouchasfed young and good looking slayers of the opposite sex by male juries.

Mrs. Orthwein, appearing much younger than the day she used a revolver to end her romance with Zeigler, was in court when Prosecutor Heath requested the jury of women.

Zionists Cast Big Vote For Voliva and Blue Law

Zion City, Ill., April 21.—Wilbur Glenn Voliva, head of the Church of Zion and overseer of Zion City, was still monarch of all he surveys today.

The straight Voliva ticket was swept into office on a blue law, anti-tobacco, compulsory church attendance, long skirts for women and anti swearing platform.

Weeks Says He Will Eradicate "Socialism" From Canal Zone

Washington, April 21.—"State Socialism of the most extreme character exists among government employes in the Canal zone, and conditions in force there make it the most extravagant government in the world, Secretary of War Weeks declared yesterday.

This drastic criticism of the system of "construction company government in the zone came in connection with the announcement that the secretary contemplated a trip to Panama with view to looking into the unsatisfactory state of affairs and bringing about radical changes. He indicated that this would be one of his first acts when he found opportunity to leave official duties at Washington.

Secretary Weeks gave illustrations of the system of "government coddling" of civilian employes which has been built up in the zone. Employes obtain supplies from the commissary at greatly reduced prices, as compared with those paid by others prevailing costs in this country, he said.

Other privileges consist of an annual leave of sixty days a year with pay for the employees. They receive 25 per cent more in salaries than do governmert officials of corresponding status in the United States. They are furnished houses by the government, and government hospitals and physicians attend to their ills free of charge.

Secretary Weeks recalled that when he went to Panama as a midshipman in 1881, Colon was the most unhealthful place in the world, whereas it is now ranked among the most healthful. He said the cost of operating the canal is $800,000 a month.

"The whole system represents a highly developed state of Socialism," repeated the secretary. "Everybody lives on the government. Decided changes are necessary."

Hungary to Vote For King's Return Assert Royalists

Geneva, April 21.—Carlist circles in Lucerne declare that the Hungarian government will shortly dissolve the preliament on the ground that it no longer represents the will of the people. New elections will then be held, the issue being the return of the former King Charles.

The adherents of Charles assert that the result will be similar to that in Greece preceding the return of King Constantine. They maintain that Charles will return in triumph to Budapest within three months.

Harding to Honor Baptist Memorial

Washington, April 21.—President Harding will turn the first spadeful of earth at the ceremony attending the breaking of ground for the National Baptist Memorial to Roger Williams and religious liberty at Sixteenth street and Columbia road northwest Saturday afternoon. The exercises are scheduled to begin at 3.30 o'clock. The President is expected to arrive at 4.30 o'clock in time to turn the first spadeful of earth.

The memorial project was launched four years ago in this city by the joint action of Northern and Southern Baptists, numbering 7,000,000. Plans call for the expenditure of a $500,000 for the erection of a beautiful colonial classic structure to be connected with the Immanuel Baptist church on the same site, with a statue of Roger Williams in front of the corner tower. The site was dedicated a year ago when the Southern Baptist convention was in session.

Cronkhite Killing Before Daugherty

The theory of the prosecution in the case of Maj. Alexander Cronkhite has been developed by the Department of Justice, it became known here yesterday. It developed that a complete theory of motive has been worked out. Sergt. Pothier confessed to the actual shooting and involved Capt. Robert Rosenbluth.

Official statements with regard to the case are lacking because Attorney General Daugherty has issued instructions to his subordinates that nothing is to be said regarding it until he has completed a review.

Maj. Davis C. Arnold, counsel for Pothier, came to Washington yesterday for a conference with Attorney General Daugherty. He did not see the Attorney General but talked with Col. Guy D. Goff, Assistant Attorney General.

HEADS BERGDOLL INQUIRY

Representative Peters (Republican), Maine, was named yesterday by Speaker Gillett as chairman of the special committee to investigate the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the Philadelphia draft dodger who is now in Germany.

Other members are McArthur (Oregon) and Luhring (Indiana), Republicans and Flood (Virginia) and Johnson (Kentucky), Democrats. The committee will hold its first meeting today.

WOMAN DANCES IN PARK CLAD ONLY IN HAIR NET

Philadelphia, April 21.—A young woman, found dancing in Fairmount Park adorned only in a hair net, is in the Psychopathic Ward at the Philadelphia Hospital for observation.

She has been ill, according to her husband, and came here yesterday on a shopping trip. Shortly after her arrival she disrobed in a pavilion and danced out on the main drive.

FIREMEN CONVICTED ON CHARGE OF ARSON

Lancaster, Pa., April 21.—Two Columbia, Pa., firemen were found guilty of felonious arson in court today. The men George Murr and Clayton Kise, through their attorneys, have applied for a new trial on the grounds that a signed confession secured by the State police, and admitted as evidence is contrary to the Fire Marshal law of 1919.

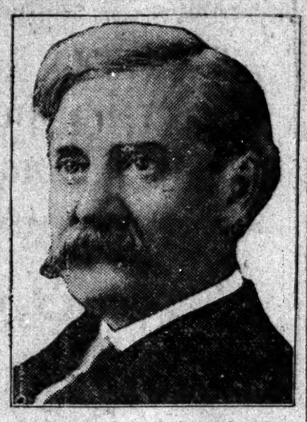
Eleven other firemen under indictment for similar offenses had their cases continued pending the outcome of the argument. The case will come up in argument court here in June.

Counsel for the defense state that if they are overruled they will appeal to the Superior Court.

The firemen are accused of starting fires in the borough during a period of several years for the purpose of trying out their new fire apparatus. They are members of the Vigilant Fire Company. At least 20 fires are blamed on the firemen. Investigation into the incendiary fires were made by members of Troop E, State police, and Thomas G. Ryan, of the Bureau of Fire Prevention.

Signed confessions were made by the majority of the firemen, the State police claim.

What's Wrong With Railroads?



Public investigation of railroad operations since the roads were returned to self-government will be proposed by Senator Cummins of Iowa upon the opening day of the special session of congress. He will ask that the committee on interstate commerce, of which he is chairman and which framed the transportation act, shall make the investigation. That something is wrong he believes is apparent. But congress and the country are unable to tell exactly, and he insists that both must know, if there is to be removal of the mistrust with which the public has come to regard the whole question and if congress is to determine properly what can be done to relieve the situation.

If the present financial embarrassment of the railroads is due to mismanagement and extravagance that should be disclosed, Senator Cummins says. If it is due to causes entirely beyond the control of the railroad managers, he is desirous that these causes should be discovered. His program therefore calls for a hearing of the railroad operators and of the railroad employees.

Not Every Farmer Owns a Gold Mine

CONSIDERABLE light is thrown on the question of farm profits in a bulletin just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, giving the results of a study through a period of five to seven years of the business of 185 farms in three areas, one each in Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin.

"The average farm income of 25 farmers in Palmer township, Washington county, Ohio," the bulletin says, "for the seven years 1912 to 1918 was $810, the labor income $276, and the return on the capital 4.6 per cent.

"The average farm income of 60 farmers in Forest and Johnson townships, Clinton county, Indiana, for the seven years 1910 and 1913 to 1918 was $1,856, the labor income $558, and the return on capital 5.7 per cent.

"The average farm income of 60 farmers in Verona and adjacent townships, Dane county, Wisconsin, for the five years 1913 to 1917 was $1,293, the labor income $408, and the return on the capital 4.7 per cent. This gives an average of 5 per cent.

"A considerable part of the farmers' living came directly from the farm. In the Ohio area the value of the items food, fuel and house rent furnished by the farm was estimated at $359 per farm for the average; in the Indiana area at $425; in the Wisconsin area at $391.

"None of the 185 farmers in these three areas made as much as $1,000 labor income every year. Four (2 per cent) made over $500 labor income every year, one each in the Ohio and Indiana areas, and two in the Wisconsin area. Thirty-three farmers (18 per cent) failed to make a $500 labor income in any one year of the period—ten each in the Ohio and Indiana areas and 13 in the Wisconsin area."

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.
